Freelance.com enters into exclusive negotiation with Helvetic Payroll to form the European leader in freelancing and intermediation between businesses and external talents

Freelance.com (Euronext Growth Paris - FR0004187367 - ALFRE), a leading player in relations between businesses and external talents in France, is entering into a phase of exclusive negotiation with Helvetic Payroll, the leader in wage portage in Switzerland, with the aim of consolidating the European freelancing market.

"We are in a structurally promising market: Helvetic Payroll has seen annual growth of more than 30% in the last 3 years and freelance.com has doubled in size over the same period: this merger will accelerate this dynamic. Helvetic Payroll has a very clear vision of the Future of Work and supports both independent consultants and businesses with entirely digital solutions, all while providing a wide range of financial, legal, and fiscal consulting services..."

Sylvestre Blavet, President of freelance.com

"We share a common vision with freelance.com: what we have seen in IT and digital is becoming generalised across all professions with a strong added value. More and more leading experts are making the choice to be independent, and our mission is to allow businesses to work fluidly with this new generation of experts."

Khaled Yatouji, CEO of Helvetic Payroll

The newly formed group would anticipate a proforma turnover of more than €600m from 2021 and its ambition is to reach 1 billion euros by 2025.

Upcoming events:

- Publication of Q1 2021 turnover: 17 May 2021, after closure of Euronext markets
- Annual General Meeting: 18 June 2021
